

British Columbia Invites 67 Immigration Candidates In Tech Pilot draw

By ATWICS Group

- ▶ Invitations to apply for a provincial nomination were issued to foreign tech workers and international students through the BC PNP.
- ▶ British Columbia invited 67 Express Entry and Skills Immigration applicants to give an application for a provincial nomination for permanent residence by its Tech Pilot on September 8.
- ▶ The BC PNP Tech Pilot is a quick-path immigration pathway for in-order tech workers and international students.
- ▶ All Tech Pilot applicants invited by the British Columbia Provincial Nominee Program (BC PNP) are needed to have an employment offer that is a minimum one year (365 days) in duration in one of the pilot's 29 in-desired occupations.

Key features of the BC PNP Tech Pilot

- ▶ BC PNP draws pointed particularly at technology workers began in May 2017. The province has a developing technology industry with some huge names of the tech world basing themselves in Canada's westernmost province.
- ▶ Besides elevating access to the expertise and ability of the province's laborers, the objective of the Tech Pilot is to enable organizations to attract skilled workers from around the globe.
- ▶ The Province of British Columbia is working to guarantee that the presence of technology business people and skilled workers from different countries can add to the development of the technology sector and that this will consequently result in a large number of employment opportunities for British Columbians.

Eligible Tech Pilot occupations include:

- ▶ Telecommunication carriers managers;
- ▶ Civil engineers;
- ▶ Database analysts and data administrators;
- ▶ Translators, terminologists and interpreters;
- ▶ Graphic designers and illustrators;
- ▶ Information systems testing technicians;
- ▶ Audio and video recording technicians;
- ▶ Chemical engineers.

Thank You For Watching

For More Information Visit ATWICS
Group

